

Microsoft Office 365 in Microsoft Open Programs Product Key Redemption Quick Start Guide

Microsoft Office 365 in Microsoft Open Programs

Microsoft Volume Licensing customers can now add cloud-based Office 365 to Open License, Open Value, and Open Value Subscription agreements.

Before you go through the activation process, you must purchase Office 365 seats through your Open License, Open Value, or Open Value Subscription Agreement. Once you have purchased the necessary access, you will receive an email from Microsoft welcoming you to Volume Licensing and providing a URL to access the Microsoft Volume Licensing Service Center (VLSC) to start the process. There are two ways within the VLSC to access Office 365 keys, through the "Relationship Summary" and through the "Downloads and Keys" screens.

Step One: Get License Keys

1. Open your Volume Licensing welcome email from Microsoft (Order Confirmation for Open Value).
2. Follow the link to the VLSC where the email indicates "Begin Registration."
 - ▶ Click "Sign In" and follow the instructions to sign up for a Windows Live ID if you do not already have one. You should use the business email address in the welcome email. Register for the VLSC if you do not have an account.
3. If you have an Open License agreement, sign the contract (required for Open License only).

Option One: Relationship Summary

1. Once you are logged into the VLSC, click "Licenses" and choose "Relationship Summary."
2. Click on the link for the Licensing ID associated with the agreement on which you have Office 365 licenses to activate. In Open License, the License ID is assigned per Purchase Order. In Open Value, the License ID is the same as the Agreement Number.
3. Click on "Product Keys" on the Agreement Details page. You will see a list of all available product keys as in the screen below. Keep note of your key numbers, as you will need them to access the Office 365 web site farther in the process.
 - ▶ There may be multiple "packs", depending on the number of keys you've ordered as Office 365 keys are available in increments of one, five, 25, and 50. Note that product type is "OSA," which designates an online services key.

The screenshot shows the Microsoft Volume Licensing Service Center (VLSC) interface. The top navigation bar includes Home, Licenses, Downloads and Keys, Software Assurance, Subscriptions, Administration, and Help. The main content area is titled "Agreement Details" and includes a "Relationship Summary FAQ" link. The agreement information is as follows:

Agreement ID: 1234567	Status: Active	Organization: CONTOSO, LLC
Parent Program: Open Value	Start Date: 2011-11-01	Location:
MBSA: N/A	End Date: 2014-10-31
Technet Administration: click here	Renewal Date: 2017-10-31
Manage MSDN Subscriptions: click here

Below the agreement details, there are tabs for Offerings, Contacts, Licenses, Product Keys, and Order Confirmations. The "Product Keys" tab is selected. A "Filter Product Keys" section allows users to select a category and value, with a "Go" button. A "Product Keys FAQ" link and a "Download all product keys" button are also visible.

4. If you have several keys, you can click on "Download all product keys" to export the list of keys to Microsoft Excel.
 - ▶ Note that each type of pack will be listed separately. For instance, if you have purchased seven seats, you will see one key under the 5-pack product, and two keys under the 1-pack product, for a total of three keys. All three keys will need to be redeemed to license seven users.

Option Two: Downloads and Keys

1. Login to the VLSC per the above steps in "Get License Keys." Once you are logged into the VLSC, click "Downloads and Keys."
2. Find Office 365 products (if you have purchased several different products, you can search by the "Office 365" product family).
 - ▶ There may be multiple "packs", depending on the number of keys you've ordered as Office 365 keys are available in increments of one, five, 25, and 50.
3. Click on "Key," as there is no download for Office 365 from the VLSC. You will see your keys listed on this screen.
